Conkling and the Associate Justiceship.

BLAINE'S ELOQUENT PERORATION.

The Chinese Restriction Bill_Confidently Kx-pected to be Passed by the Senate —Capital Notes.

isted Press Dispatches.] -

WASHINOTON, March 1.—The Post states positively that Conkling has de-clined the Associate Justiceship and suggested Clarence A. Seward for the

The report that Conkling had de-clined to the President and signified his desire of the appointment of Seward to the Supreme Bench was printed here to-day, but is not credited. The Senate expect to act upon Conkling's nomination this afternoon. If Mr. Conkling has signified his declination to the President the Senate has not yet received any notice of the fact, and hence it is not believed. Several attempts to organize an opposition to and hence it a solution to attempts to organize an opposition to Conkling in the Senate have been made but without success. There was some talk this morning of Democratic opposition, but the Senators on that side are evidently not disposed to make any fight. The leading posed to make any fight. The leading Democratic Senators were advised that the will speak to-morrow. to oppose Conkling enough cans would join them to reject and some of the Democrats favored such coalition, but it seems now to have been abandoned. Conkling has some strong friends among the Demo-crats. Voorhees has spoken in his favor and Harris, Cockrell and other Democrats are counted among his friends. Present indications are that only two or three votes will be cast against him. Bayard, on the Judiciary Committee, declined to report favora-bly on the nomination, but said he bly on the nomination, but said he would not make a minority report against the House bills already pas

SERGEANT MASON'S CASE.

A member of the Court Martial trying Sergeant Mason said to-day tha row. He said all of the case is that a guard fired at the prisoner he was guarding; that his guilt is clear and admitted, but he could not say what punishment will be inflicted.

BLAINE'S EULOGY.

WASHINGTON, March 1 .- Following is the delayed peroration of Blaine's

"He did not quail, not alone for the one short moment in which, stunned and dazed, he could give up life, hardly aware of its relinquishment, but through days of deadly languor, through weeks of agony, that was not less agony because silently borne. With clear sight and calm courage he looked into his open grave. What blight and ruin met his anguished eyes! Whose lips may tell what brilliant broken plans, what baffled high ambition, what sundering of strong, warm manhood's friendship, what bitter rending of sweet household ties? Behind him a proud, expectant nation, a great host of sustaining friends, a cherished and happy mother wearing the full, rich honors of her nation, a great host of sustaining Hawley, H W Scott and child, Dr C W friends, a cherished and happy mother wearing the full, rich honors of her early toil and tears; the wife of his youth, whose whole life lay in his; the little boys not yet emerged from childhood's frolic; the fair young daughter; the sturdy sons just springing into closest companionship, claiming every to day and every day rewarding a father's love and care; in his heart the eager rejoicing in the power to meet all derived the friends. Hawley, H W Scott and child, Dr C W Brygfer, A C Pruselle, D M Carmen, Mrs Wilbor, Mrs W L Merry and family, Mrs Ayers, Miss W C Hill, Mrs K Read, Mrs M Adams, H Wers, H Miller, H W Captain, H C Fox, Dr Simms, E Everett, G Jackson, Los Angeles; Mrs J E Anderson, Tuclove and care; in his heart the eager rejoicing in the power to meet all derived the friends of the control of th love and care; in his heart the eager rejoicing in the power to meet all de-mands;—before him, desolation and great darkness, and yet his soul was not shaken. His countrymen were thrilled with an instant, profound and universal sympathy. Masterful in his weakness, he became the center of a nation's love and was enshrined in the prayers of a world. But atl the love and all the sympathy could not share with him in his suffering. He trod the wine-press alone. With unfaltering front he faced death; with unfailing tenderness he took leave of life.

assassin's bullet, he heard the voice of God. With simple resignation he bowed to the divine decree. As the end drew near his early craving—the craving for the sea-returned. The craving for the sea—returned. The stately mansion of power had been to him the weary hospital of pain, and he begged to be taken from its prison walls, from its oppressive, stifling air, from its homelessness and from its from its homelessness and from its hopelessness. Gently, silently, the love of a great people bore the pale sufferer to the longed-for healing of the sea, to live or to die, as God should will, within sight of its heaving billows; within sound of its manifold voices; with wan, fevered faces, tenderly lifted to the cooling breeze, he looked out wistfully upon the ocean's changing wonders; on its fair sails whitening in the maying light; on its restless ing in the moving light; on its restless waves rolling shoreward to break and die beneath the noonday sun; on the red clouds of evening arching low to the horizon; on the serene and shining the horizon; on the screne and shining pathway of the stars. Let us think that his dying eyes read the mystic meaning which only the rapt and parting soul may know. Let us believe that in the silence of the receding world he heard the great waves breaking on a farther shore; that already fell upon his wasted brow the breath of the early morning.

dence that the Senate will, by a decisive majority, pass the bill. Two self explanatory amendments, intended to be offered to the bill, were submitted last evening and ordered printed. The first is by Senator Grover, who proposes to amend by adding a new section declaring that the words "Chinese laborers," wherever used in the Act shall be construed to mean both skilled and unskilled laborers and Chinese employed in mining: the other by Senator Farley to add a section prohibiting the State and United States Courts from hereaf-United States Courts from hereaf-ter admitting Chinese to citizen-ship, and repealing all laws in con-flict with this Act. Both Senators will probably address the Senate in advocacy of their respective amend-ments and in support of the measure in general. On the conclusion of Sen-ator Miller's opening assumed.

ator Miller's opening argument, arrangement was made, at the request of Senator Voorhees, by which he is to be allowed to deliver a prepared speech at half-past one o'clock to day on the need of additional accommodations for the Congressional Library, the Chinese bill to come up as unfinished business when he gets through. There is no probability that a vote will be reached

TO COME UP TO-MORROW. After Miller's speech the Senate went into executive session, leaving the Chi-nese bill to come up as unfinished bus-

ROSECRANS HONORED.

At the caucus of the Democratic Representatives in the House to-night, Rosecrans, of California, was elected permanent Chairman of the caucus for the Forty-seventh Congress. The object of the caucus was the appointment of a Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, and it was decided that the committee should be empowered to ap-point an Executive Committee on the eart of the House to act with a similar Executive Committee from the Senate, the joint committee to have charge of the Democratic campaign.

STRENGTHENING THE NAVY. The House Committee on Naval Affairs favorably reported the bill for strengthening the navy.

ASSISTING THE SUFFERERS. Rations are now on the way to the Southern sufferers.

CONKLING'S NOMINATION The Senate Judiciary Committee agreed informally on Conkling's nomination. It is to be reported back to the Senate at the next executive session, with a recommendatian for confirmation. One or two of the committee, it is understood, regard the momination with disfavor, but there is no probability of any formidable op-position to its confirmation.

THE CHINESE CURSE.

It is very gratifying to note that the bill to stop Chinese immigration to this country has at last been put in motion. Senator Miller has made a vigorous speech in support of his bill, and he is backed by his Democratic agues from this State. So we shall hope, as it is not a party measure, in an offensive sense, that the bill will be enacted into a law, and under such aces as will ensure its enforcement, for unless it is well backed by popular sentiment, it will, like our Sunday law and the law closing the saloons on the days of election become a dead letter. In his speech Mr. Miller made the assertion that "while thousands of men and women are begging for work in San Francisco, cargoes of Chinese are regularly landed and distributed to various fields of labor." Now, this is undoubtedly true, and it proves not only the growth of the evil, but the fact that the Chinese are wanted here, as well. True, we have voted almost unanimously for the exclusion of the Chinese, and Mr. Miller reverts to the circumstance, but the fact that there are fields of la bor open to every ship load of Mongolians who arrive, and to which they are immediately distributed, is evidence that the heart of the people did not go with their votes. There is a strong sympathy for the Chinese, and it is shown in the efforts making by christian people to teach and convert them. And then such is the dearth of domestics and laborers for menial labor, that the Chinese are sought for, are wanted and readily employed by all classes, serving in all capacities from that of scullions and farm hands, to house servants among the bon ton. While politicians and the people are speech making and resolving that the "Chinese must go," we would like to see grow up a better spirit of sympathy for our own flesh and blood-the thousands of men and women who, Senator Miller says, are begging for work in San Frano-and then when we get the law to prevent Chinamen from landing upon our shores we shall make a beginning of getting rid of them. In this we concede to a Chinaman the right to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness,' but in doing so we insist that our first duty is to our own race and kindred, and until we can care for and convert the poor and vicious among us, we would not advise to waste our energies on foreigners.

PROSCRIBING MARRIED WOMEN.

The New York Board of Education is considering the propriety of passing a law preventing women who may marry while engaged in teaching in that city from becoming teachers hereafter. In other words that their marriage is equivalent to a discharge. The grounds for this action are stated to be that it is supposed that when a lady marries she betters her condition and her husband should support her and she should give way to single ladies who need the situa-The New York Board of Education is way to single ladies who need the situa-tions. TELEGRAPH MONOPOLIES. man Springer's Bill—The English System.

Congressman Springer recently introduced a bill in the House of Representatives which will, if passed, accomplish a much needed reform.

The American people have permitte one of the most dangerous and arbitrary corporations to develop unchecked, into a giant monopoly verifying the oft repeated assertion "that no people on earth tolerate being humbugged with as good grace as the Americans.'

In 1866 Congress passed a law providing that, "any telegraph company might have the right to construct and operate lines on any portion of the public domain, and on any military or post road, or across any of the navigable waters of the United States, and that such telegraph company might take and use from the public lands the necessary stone, timber and other materials for stations and other needful races in the construction and operation uses in the construction and operation. They might take any of the unoccupied lands for the necessary stations, upon certain conditions, some of which were that the rights and privileges granted under that act should not be transferred under that act should not be transferred by any company acting thereunder, to any other corporation, association, or person." The last clause has been shamelessly and persistently ignored. Among other conditions was the follow-ing important proviso "that the United States might for postal, military, or other purposes, purchase the telegraph lines, property, and effects of any and all companies acting under the author-ity of the act at a propriet all companies acting under the authority of the act at an appraised value to ity of the act at an appraised value to be ascertained by five competent, disinterested persons." Mr. Springer's bill merely provides for this appraisement leaving the question of purchase a subject for subsequent consideration. The appraisement would show the actual value of the lines, property, and effects, regardless of the market value of the stock. It is believed that an appraisement of the Western Union Telegraph Company's property would show a valuation not exceeding $15,000,000, although the company has a capital stock of $80,000,000, worth about 80 cents on the dollar. The receipts of the company in 1880, before the consolidation, were nearly $13,000,000 and the net profits about $0,000,000. $6,000,000 is realized annually, speaks volumes illustrative of the rapacious greed of this corporation. Should the bill pass, the appraisement, and consequent exposure of the enormous profits accruing to telegraph companies would enable the government to adopt one or two courses, as Mr. Springer remarks, "either so regulate the charges of existing companies as to bring them within a reasonable proportion to the capital invested, or, to secure the needed relief urged by an enlightened public sentiment, avail itself of its contract, and take the line of their contract. and take the lines at their appraised

Last night the west bound express train was nine hours late, on account of an acsident at Sweetwater night before last at midnight. It seems that the freight train was switched to await the passenger, but on account of the carelessness of the con-ductor, the hind car was left on the main track. A few minutes afterward the express and passenger came along and attempted to run over the freight. Her engine was thrown off and six of the freight cars smashed up. No one was freight cars smashed up. No one was hurt, because the passenger was going very slow. Had she been under full headway the loss of life would have been frightful. The passengers who stopped off in this city last night were very bitter against the conductors of both trains, and say that they didn't seem to care whether the trains were thrown off or not. There have been a number of wrecks lately, but this is the first passenger that has been thrown off the track.

On account of the erious sickness of Mr. Day's father in serious sickness of Mr. Day's father in Oakland, the wedding was very quiet, there being no guests present except the relatives of the bride. There were a number of handsome presents made—one a large silver service presented by Wells, Fargo's "boys," engraved on the sides with the initials of the bride and groom. The happy couple left last night for Oakland, their future home. A number of Mr. Day's old Wells, Fargo companions escorted him and his beautiful bride to the depot and fired, old shoes after them, just for luck, "you know." They have the kindest wishes of the Times in their life journey.

EDITOR DAILY TIMES .- The following is the third quarterly apportionment of the school fund: One teacher is assigned to each district for every seventy census children or fraction thereof, equal to twenty Two hundred dollars is apportioned for each teacher assigned, except in Fountain Valley and SulphurSprings districts, which having less than twenty census children receive but one hundred dollars per teacher. The remaining money is appor tioned upon the average daily attendan made upon the basis of the average daily attendance at school, and it will be See announcement of auction sale of fruit trees by Alfred Moore, in "New Today." Here is an opportunity of securing apportionments that this method of apportunity of securing apportionments that this method of apportunity of securing apportunity portioning the school moneys works great Through the kindness of J. C. Kays the ly to the advantage of those districts which are doing the educating in our county.

Heretofore the money remaining on hand after apportioning five hundred dollars per teacher. had to be distributed according atter apportioning are nundred collars per teacher, had to be distributed according to the number of census children between five and seventeen years of age. By this process those districts which had a large census roll, and usually a small attendance at school, drow the lion's share of the moneys. For example, such districts as San Juan, which employes one teacher and has an average daily attendance of twenty-five pupils, would receive nearly as much money as San Pedro, which employs three teachers and has an average daily attendance of ninety pupils. By the present method the money is, in a measure, placed where it is needed and will be used for purposes of education; and better still, placed where it is needed and will be used for purposes of education; and better still, as the amount received depends upon the number of pupils who are benefited by it, there is an incentive to gather the children into the schools. I refer to this change in the law here because it is pretty gener-ally understood that my annual report of 1880 to the State Superintendent brought it about; and because many, thinking that it about; and because many, thinking that it would not prove beneficial, have censured me for it. I feel confident, however, sured me for it. If eel confident, however, that an examination of the following amounts will convince all that the change is a wise one, and a reform that might have been and should have been effected long ago. It is to be hoped, also, that the next Legislature will still further improve Dr. Wm. Rowland, wife and daughter. Miss Eaves and Miss Williamson, all of Philadelphia, will leave to-day on a jaunt up the coast in a private conveyance. They will visit Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and may extend the trip further.

A letter postmarked San Fernando, Feb. 21, and Los Angeles the same date, was delivered to J. N. Rush in this city, according to his statement, on the 28th—a week after, although he had called every day in the meantime, knowing that the letter had been mailed on the date referred to.

C. H. Marshall, the popular sign and house painter, announces in "New To-Day," his readiness to execute anything in the painting line. He has three or four competent men also to attend to paper hanging, decorating, etc. Call at No. 66 Spring street, and examine the style of work done.

Dr. Burk's little son who was run over by a team last week, has developed an injury that was not known of until a day or two ago, and he is now in rather a critical condition. The injury is in the thigh and is the result of a severe bruise, probably from the bores stepping upon him. Fears and proposed.

It is to be hoped, also, that the next Legislature will still further improve the law in this respect, by making the number of teachers assigned correspond. The two humber of teachers assigned correspond. While San Pedro, San Pasqual, Downey, Westminster, Santa Ana, and many c'her districts employ as many teachers as they draw money for, San Juan receives money for the teachers and employs only one, and Yorba, Sepulveda, Palomares, Wilmington, San Jose and eight other districts on, San Jo are not dealt with so generously as ours. In fact, I was told that none of them drew money from the horse stepping upon him. Fears are entertained for the life of the lad.

The Ragle Corps has purchased the lot on Main street, near First, adjoining Mrs. Winter's residence, on which will be built in the near future a commodious and substantial brick armory. The lot is 73 feet front on Main street, running back 300 feet to New Los Angeles street, which will give them an entrance on both streets.

The announcement of White & Curley, 95 Spring street, appears in "New To-day." Mr. White is a journeyman of many years experience in this city, and Mr. Curley was for eight years past entrusted with the supervision of the metal roofing department in one of the best houses in the city, and has established a good reputation as an excellent workman. Give the new firm a trial.

The Times' pressman, C. H. Edwards, and two other gentlemen took a notion a couple of days ago to hunt jack rabbits and such in the Calmenga Pass. By the following score it will be seen that the brave hunters made a complete sweep of that whole section: 1(001) rabbit. 1(001) well to refer to Section 1622 of the Politi-cal Code, which provides that the State Fund must be used in the payment of teacher's salaries only. To comply with this section of the law, it may be necessary to keep a separate account of the different school funds, but to do so will save much trouble, and I would therefore recom-mend it.

It will be observed by reference to the nnouncement in "New To-day" that the It will be observed by reference to the announcement in "New To-day" that the arrangements for a grand opera-concert to be held on next Tuesday evening at Turn-verein Hall, have been perfected. An unprecedented lyrical treat will be presented which none that possibly can be present should fail to take advantage of. Signora Gemma Tiozzo, the renowned contraito of the Bianchi-Montaldo troupe, will make her first appearance in this city, and will sing an air from Bellini's opera of "Romeo and Juliet" and will take the part of Azucena in the second and fourth acts of "Il Trovatore." Great care has been taken in the arrangement of the opera, the cast embracing in addition to Signora Tiozzo, Signor Antinori and a number of our best trained amateur voices supplemented with an excellent chorus. Mmc. Marra will lead the orchestra and Miss Evans a talented and accompliahed instrumentalist will preside at the piano. It will doubtless be a delightful entertainment.

One of the mail agents running between Los Angeles and El Paso arrived home last Tuesday night and reports that a se ries of unprecedented rain, wind and snow storms have visited the whole route east of the Colorado river for the past few weeks. Strange to relate, notwithstand-ing the unusually large rainfall, the plains present the same arid appearance as before, hence the present rains are not considered to be a benefit. A curious feature of the late rains has been the total beence of thunder. No fears are enter-tained now of washouts the company hav-ng profited by their recent losses, and provided every safeguard possible.

The Pince to Stop.

Washburn returned from San Francisco day before yesterday and will emain in the city until about the 20th. looking after the interests of his Muscatine olony, after which he will return to the east and perfect arrangements for bring-ing out the colony about the first of Octo-ber. Mr. Washburn visited all the impor-tant valleys of the State during his trip north and now he has returned satisfied, as he expressed it, that "Los Angeles is the place in which to stop." He says mat-ters in every direction make a most favor-able showing, and his enterprise cannot fail of a successful outcome. ast and perfect arrangements for bring-

Yesterday afternoon as the Santa Ana rain passed Ducommun street a farmer ttempted to cross the track with his two rse wagon, but he fell short of the mark and the engine tossed, wagon, horses and and the engine tossed wagon, horses and man a confused mass into the air. The bystanders were horrified for a moment, fearing that a bloody catastrophe had occurred, but strange to relate the man and his horses were uninjured, although the wagon was completely semolished. The experience was doubtless a valuable one to the farmer, as he will hereafter keep a safe distance from passing trains.

THE BUG BUSINESS.

A Strong Defense of the Disinfecting System.

The Charge that it is an Onerous Burde Repelled—A Benefit—Erroncous Ideas Corrected.

OBANGE, CAL., Feb. 22, 1882. Some one with more assurance than knowledge in your correspondence from Santa Ana takes up the subject of frui and box disinfection, and slashes right and left, denouncing the whole business as oppressive, useless, etc. Were it not for the misrepresentations contained in the article and the injury that might arise from such statements in the execution of a most wise and beneficial law the article would have passed unnoticed. The people of this vicinity are better posted in to the regulations for disinfecting trees fruits, etc., and such a tirade would only cause a smile at the ignorance of the writer, but there are many who are not so well informed, and to strangers from other states the outlook, as depicted by your correspondent, would not be inviting, would tend to deter them from settling and planting orchards in a district when oppresive laws are in force, and the hard earned dollars of the fruit growers are to be swallowed up unmercifully by the ravenous inspectors. The law, as every well enous inspectors. The law, as every well informed fruit grower knows, was made in the interest of the orchardist, and where longest in force—Sants Clars county—is the most esteemed, and the time will come when the people of this valley will rejoice that such a law was made and carried out. Many persons were seriously alarmed less the disinf. ction of the fruit by the process prescribed would make it unsalable, and all kinds of reports were circulated as to what this commission merchant and that one had said. Rut what are the facts? Every shipment that has been heard from since the law took effect here, has been sold at good prices without a single mention of shipment that has been heard from since the law took effect here, has been sold at good prices without a single mention of anything disagreeable or unsalable about the fruit, and with the request to send on more. Instead of our oranges and lemons being injured, in most instances the fruit has been vastly improved in appearance, as the disinfectants used tend to clear off any smut that may be on the fruit. If the fruit grower prefers, he can disinfect with concentrated lye diluted with water, instead of the soap and sulphur; and where the fruit is found to be entirely free of scale or insect life it can be passed by the inspector without the use of any disinfectant.

The statement of your correspondent, that new fruit boxes must be disinfected is so utterly utter that it is surprising that any one having respect for his veracity would make such an assertion, and we will charitably say, it is a mistake. Reference is madelto regulation number six, which requires all kinds of packages that have been used for shipping fruit in to be disinfected before returning to any orchard or store room, and as the boxes from this section are never returned after shipments of fruit are made, there is shipments of fruit are made, there is shipments of fruit are made, there is ship-disinfected before returning to any orchard or store room, and as the boxes from this section are never returned after shipments of fruit are made, there is absolutely nothing to complain of on our part. Any one who undertakes to enlighten the public or complain of an injustice through the press, should be very guarded, and sure that what he writes is the truth, and nothing but the truth, as articles are liable to be copied from paper to paper all over the land. More especially is this the case if they are of a character injurious to the pretensions of a section as being adapted to any specialty. These lines are penned in no spirit of controversy, but only with a view of correcting erroneous statements, probably believed to be correct, and in support of a law, that will, if zealously supported by the fruit growers, enhance the value of orange lands in this county fifty per cent. Inside of two years. What a glorious result it will be when every orange grove in the county will be clean, and the orange and its kind, shine out in all their golden beauty like the double eagles they will represent fresh from the mint.

One other item—the charges of the inspectors: They have the right to charge one dollar for each certificate of inspection, but no inspector will take advantage of his prerogatives unless the exactions upon his time justify it. The inspector Orange charges one dollar for first inspection and thereafter only twenty-five cents, which is not oppressive and does not more than pay for the writing of the certificate and the record he must keep of each shipment.

And Yet There is Roo

Mr. C. Jevne, a prominent wholesa and retail grocery merchant of Chicago arrived here a few days ago with his wife hoping the change would benefit the latter's health. He has concluded to re main here permantly and is now seeking a location with the view of starting a whole-sale and retail grocery house in this city. It is reported that the sales of the house with which he is connected in Chicago, for the past year, aggregated in the neighborhood of one million dollars. Mr. Jevne seems to have the necessary pluck and enterprise to make a success anywhere, and the inducements in Los Angeles to such men are certainly many-geles to such men are certainly manyeles to such men are certainly

Scarcer Than Hen's Teeth.

As an indication of the unprecedente lemand for houses of all sizes, it is a not worthy fact that a recent new-comer ha nunted for an ordinary five or six-roome hunted for an ordinary live or six-roomed dwelling house during the past week without success, notwithstanding the fact that many new houses are finished daily. The houses now being built are as a rule rented before the first stick of timber is laid in the foundation. Truly Los Angeles may well be congratulated on her unprecedented influx of roomlation. ed influx of population.

WALLACE SISTERS.

Hall Crowded Last Night.

For several weeks past the theatre-goer have been anxiously awaiting the opening night of the Wallace Sisters. Last night they made their first appearance at Turnverein hall before a large audience, in fac as large as the Perry concert. Miss Jennie Wallace, the star, is supported by her sister, Maud Wallace, and ten ladies and gentlemen who will rank with any of the gentiemen who will rank with any or the stock companies on the road. The troupe as a whole is much better than any that has visited this city for some time. "In the Toils" was played in good style last night, Miss Wallace in the leading role taking off the honors, although the other leading characters received their share of the applause. This evening there will be an entire change of programme.
